What is Research4Life?

Research4Life provides institutions in lower income countries with online access to 203,000+ academic and professional peer-reviewed content.

Our goal is to close the knowledge gap between the Global North and South, by making it easier for researchers in the Global South to access research and to publish, and as such contribute to a more equitable world of research.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Labour Law

Labour law (also known as labor law or employment law) mediates the relationship between workers, employing entities, trade unions and the government. Collective labour law relates to the tripartite relationship between employee, employer and union. Individual labour law concerns employees' rights at work also through the contract for work. are social norms (in some cases also technical standards) for the minimum socially acceptable conditions under which employees or contractors are allowed to work. Government agencies (such as the former US Employment Standards

How we make a difference

“We can’t always buy the latest books and journals, so Research4Life is really our only source of current information. It allows me to read what I need to read to be able to stay up to date.”

Neurosurgeon Dr. Pratyush Shrestha from Nepal

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

Research4Life is committed to the UN's Sustainable Development Goals.

Research4Life contributes to the United Nations Decade of Action by increasing research participation from the Global South.

The recent Strategic Plan to 2030 focuses on inclusion and equity in the global research community, supporting the creation of an even richer body of research which will help to advance the Sustainable Development Goals.

Research4Life offers our partners, users and supporters the opportunity to contribute to the creation of a diverse, inclusive and equitable research ecosystem for all.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

Our unique public-private structure allows us to work effectively in alignment with SDG17: Partnership for the Goals for sustainable development and to support our community of users as both consumers and producers of critical research and advance SDG10: Reduced Inequalities within and among countries.

While our activities directly and indirectly support all the SDGs such as Good health and Wellbeing, Zero Hunger, Clean Water and Sanitation; Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure as well as Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions, the Research4Life Program is closely aligned to SDG4: Quality Education that is fundamental to creating a peaceful and prosperous world and SDG5: Gender Equity to achieve the empowerment of all women and children.
